NAEMI
Renewable Energy
for
Tribal Community Development

Training Workshop

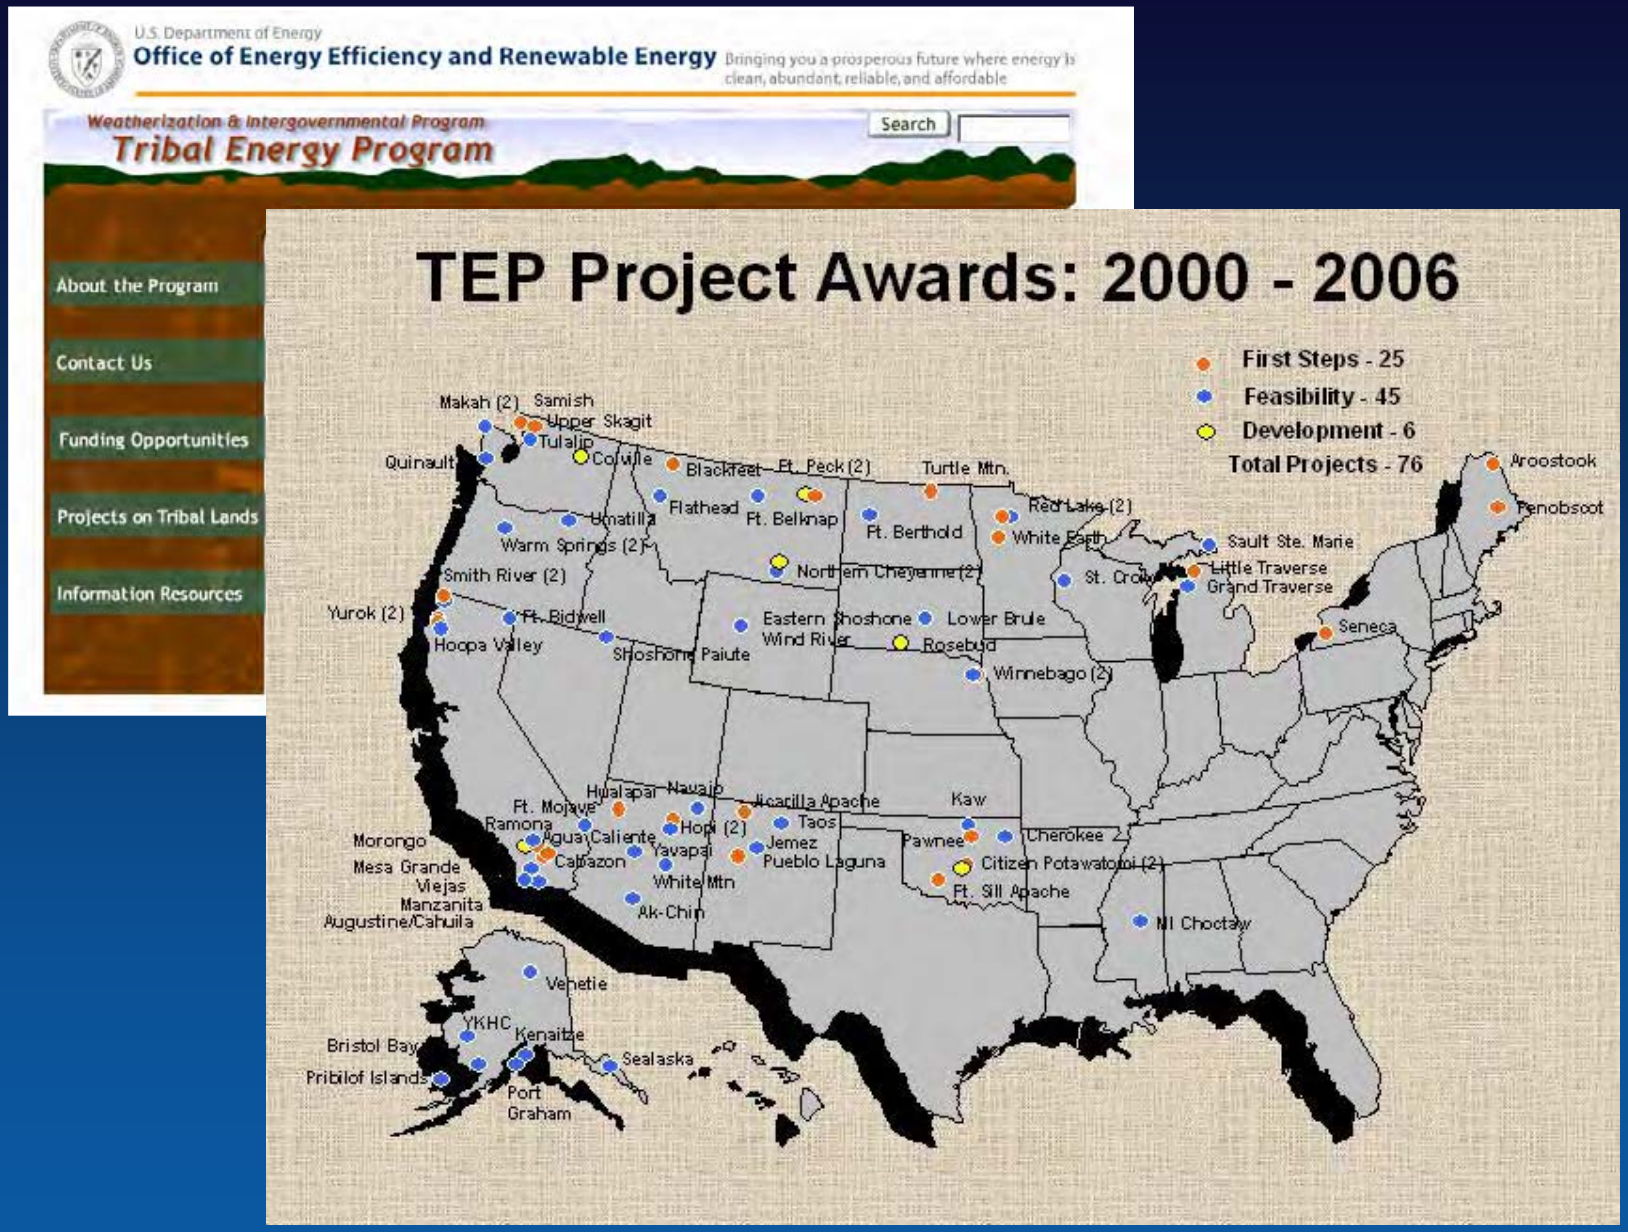
NAEMI
Renewable Energy
for
Tribal Community Development

Roger Taylor
TEP Manager
National Renewable Energy Laboratory

Introduction

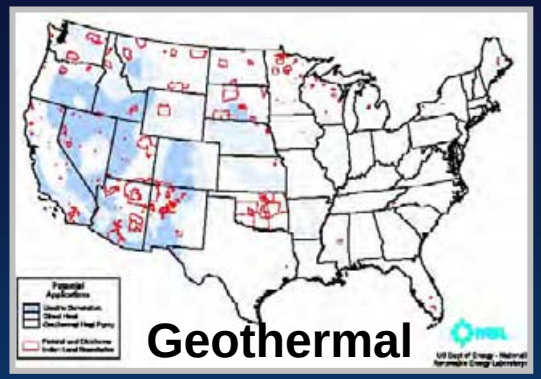
Major DOE National Laboratories

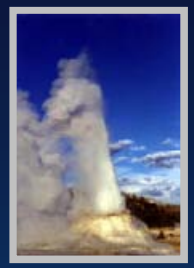
- Defense Program Labs
- Office of Science Labs
- Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy Lab
- Environmental Management Lab
- Fossil Energy Lab

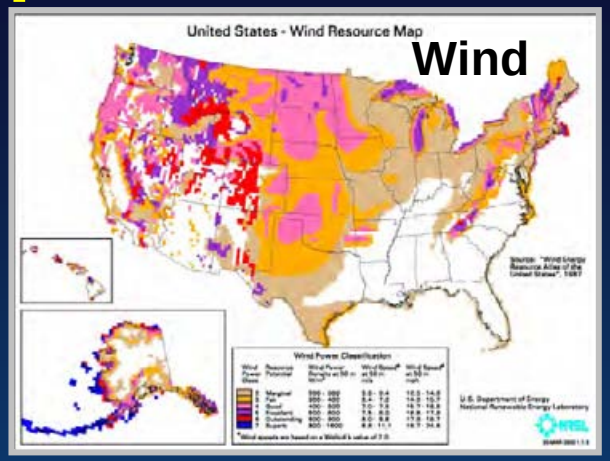


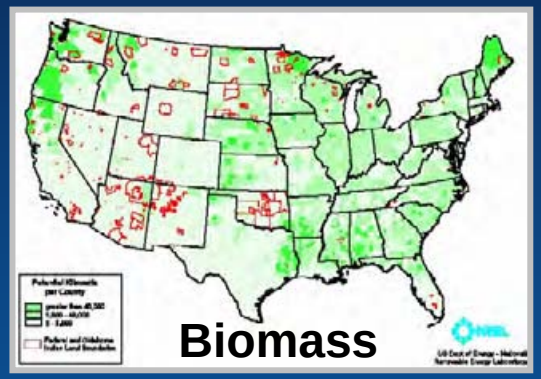
www.eere.energy.gov/tribalenergy

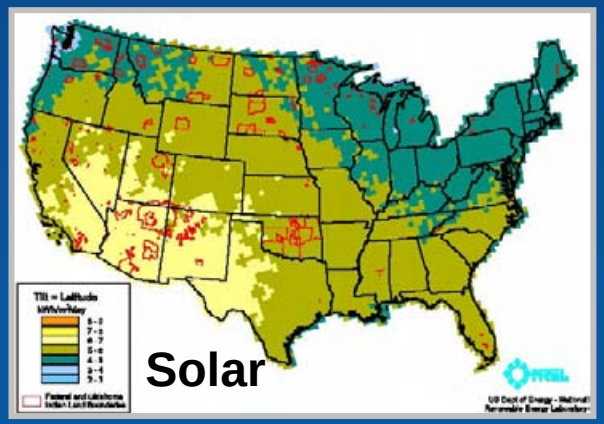
Renewable Resource Options

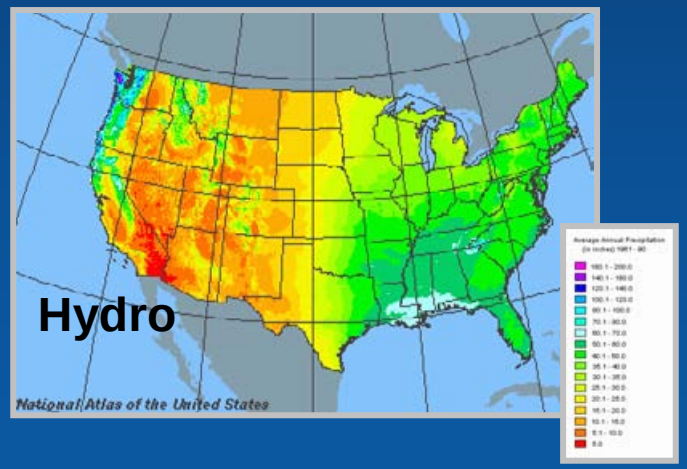












Welcome!

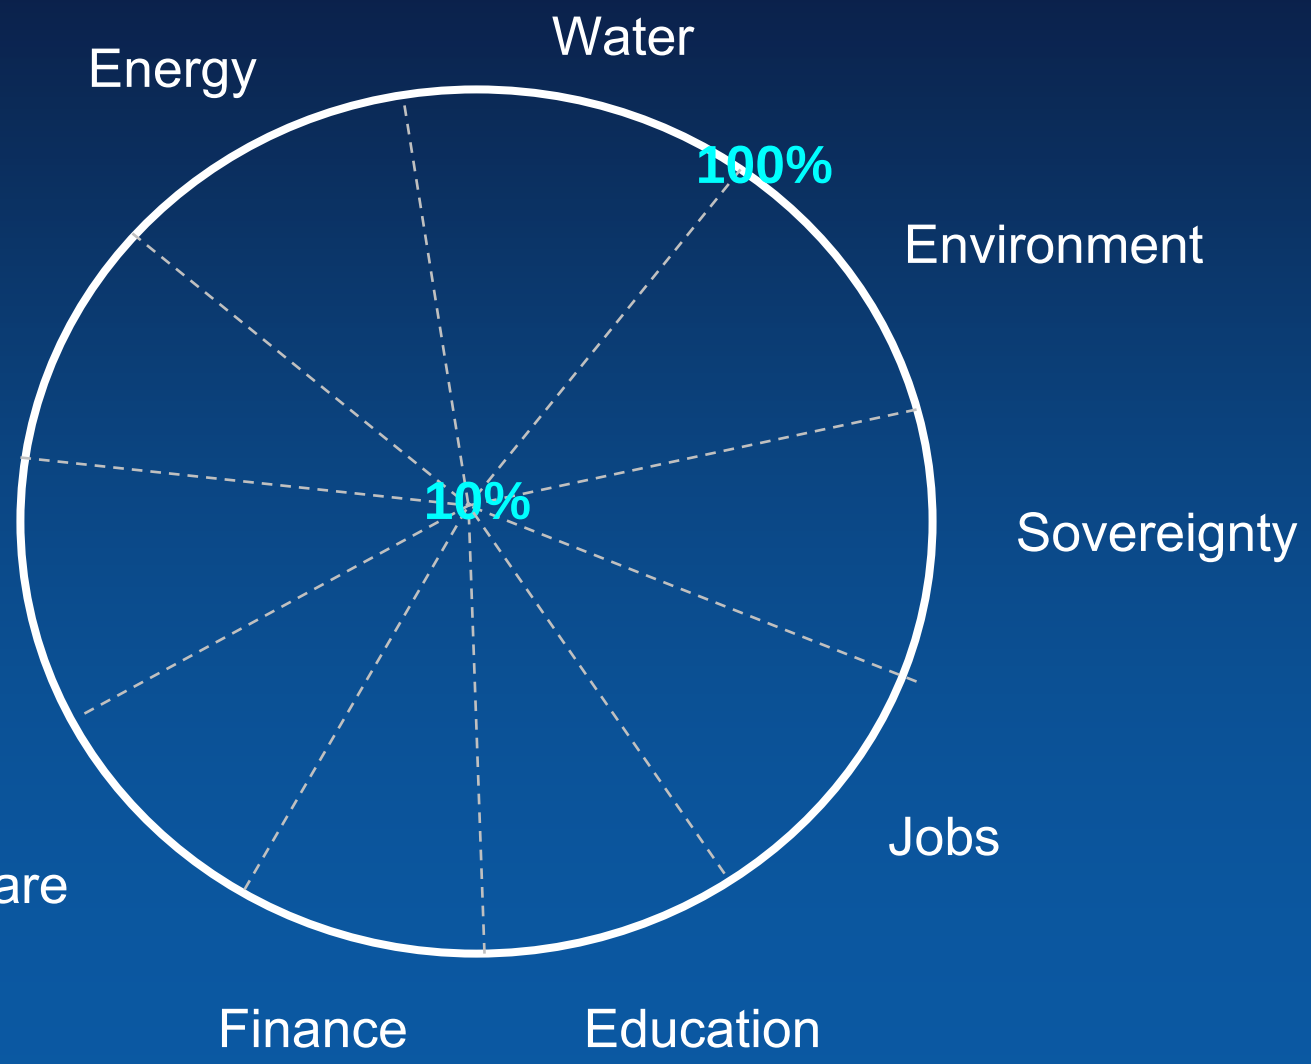
Participant Locations Map
Tribal Priority Chart

Participant Locations Map

Tribal Priorities Chart

For the Tribe as a Whole – Where is the most time spent?

For you personally – Where is most of your time spent?



Renewable Energy for Tribal Community Development

Course Outline

Monday
Welcome
The Global Picture & Tribal Energy Planning
How does energy define who we are?
Understanding energy use in our communities

Tuesday
Energy & Food – Some surprising links
Movie: The Power of Community: How Cuba Survived Peak Oil
Tribal Strategic Energy Planning – First Steps
Develop a Tribal Energy Vision Statement

Review Vision Statements
Demand-Side Options
Good building design
Energy efficient appliances
Weatherization & Home Improvement
Organizing for Implementation

Wednesday
Movie: "Renewable Energy Now!"
RE Resources
(solar, wind, hydro, geothermal, biomass)

Tribal Community & Resource Mapping
Supply-side Options
- RE 1
- RE 2

Thursday
Movie: "The End of Suburbia"
- RE 3

- RE 4
- RE 5

Program Integration & Organization

Friday
Mapping the Future
Strategic Energy Planning – Putting it all Together
Wrap-up, Vision Statement & Next Steps

Ground Rules

Please be on time – plan on 8:00 – 5:00

Please turn cell phones to vibrate, or off & leave room for conversations

Please feel free to ask questions

Have fun and get to know each other!